

Menchukha of West Siang in Arunachal Pradesh goes Online www.menchukha.com , a website to connect Menchukha, one of the most beautiful places of Arunachal Pradesh in the District of West Siang has been launched recently. The State Government has taken its best efforts to make this wonderful tourist place even more popular than before through the launching of this website. This website speaks a lot regarding the place as a whole. A tourist can obtain details information on how to reach the place and accommodation facilities available in that place for staying. The website also focuses on various festivals celebrated in the State of Arunachal Pradesh, especially in the District of West Siang and the celebration time of those festivals. Definitely, this website is highly informative for the tourists who visit this place.

The website has been designed by Samagra Media with support from M.L.A., Pasang who is also a keen photographer.
