

MC Barooah debate contest

STAFF REPORTER

GUWAHATI, Aug 19 – The debates and symposia section of Cotton College Union Society is organizing the 30th national level Manik Chandra Barooah memorial debating competition on September 7, 2010.

The topic for the preliminary round would be 'In the contemporary political scenario, the integrity of India is being increasingly challenged.' For final round, the topic would be 'Big dams will adversely impact the economy and natural environment of the Northeast.'

According to a statement, the institution has been holding this event since 1979 and has generated an excellent forum for exchange of ideas and opinions relevant to both the Northeast and the country.

"The best academic institutions of the country have regularly participated in this annual event in which various eminent personalities from different backgrounds have acted as speakers," the statement mentioned.
